

2008 ARMA Canada Member Recognition Awards

Katherine Chornoby

Toronto Chapter

The success or failure of the Canadian Region conference depends on having a program to attract attendees. In addition to having the great distances in Canada to contend with, our Regional conference must also provide delegates with an option who may not be able to attend the International conference. The successful operation of the conference ensures the financial and operating health of the region. So, much depends on the conference program. The work of organizing a program is intense and continuous, including working with the theme, finding the keynote and session speakers, shaping the program agenda and then following up with the local committee to manage the day to day issues including last minute changes to the speakers' lists and the room assignments.

Using her contacts and knowledge of top Canadian RIM issues, Katherine has three times been able to build a very successful program. The attendance figures and positive evaluations have been the proof. At the same time, she has also managed her busy consulting career and life outside of ARMA.

As well, she was and continues to be a leader in her home chapter of Toronto.
